

STOESSEL HAS CITADEL STILL

There Is Nothing To Indicate That the Commander Has Weakened at All.

SAYS NOGIO REFUSES AN ARMISTICE

An Unconfirmed Rumor Declares That The Japs Have Not Sanctioned Alleged Request of The Russians.

London, Nov. 12.—Not a word has come from Port Arthur, where London, for twenty-four hours, has believed that Gen. Nogai and Gen. Stoessel were discussing terms of capitulation.

A report from Chefoo declares that Gen. Stoessel refused to grant the armistice asked for by the Russian commander last Wednesday.

This rumor is not confirmed. For that matter, the original announcement from Tokyo that Stoessel had asked for an armistice has not yet received official sanction.

So far as officially known, therefore, there is nothing to indicate that the Japanese have relaxed their efforts to carry the surrounding forts, or that Stoessel has weakened in his determination to hold out.

To Intercept Baltic Fleet.

The Chefoo correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says the Japanese are hastening their plans to combat the Baltic fleet. All naval officers who are not engaged on active service and who can possibly be recalled have been summoned from Japan, preparatory to starting for their prearranged destinations.

Artillery firing and occasional conflicts between infantry outposts continue along the Shaho river. Sometimes the outposts fraternize and exchange cigarettes and other luxuries.

An English correspondent at Mukden says the conviction prevails there that the Japanese reinforcements are larger than reported, consequently an attack is expected soon.

JAPS ARE WAITING.

Gen. Oyami Is Not Ready to Push Forward With Army.

Mukden, Nov. 12.—An artillery fire from both sides is continued at intervals. It is heavier on the Russian wing, where all day Nov. 9 and also during the night the Russians shelled the Japanese positions with their heavy guns. Neither side on that date gained any advantage.

As a result of the heavy bombardment by the Russians, the Japanese have withdrawn some of their batteries from the advanced positions. It is now believed that, not being ready to attack, they are falling back to the hills.

The Russians gained a great advantage when, towards the end of the battle on Shaho river, they recaptured Lone Tree hill. It commands a large part of the plain over which the Japanese must advance.

The operations are about the same each day. There is artillery firing most of the time and the frequent clashes of infantry at night.

Soldiers Are Friendly.

As has been the case in most wars, but entirely unexpected in this one, the soldiers of the opposing outposts

FOUND DEAD IN HIS OWN CELLAR

Well Known Sporting Character of Beloit Took His Own Life.

James Connors, a well-known sporting character of Beloit, was found hanging by his neck in his little cottage south of that city yesterday morning. Connors is well-known in Jamesville and has recently made his home alone south of Beloit. When found the body was hanging from a beam in the roof, over a trap door leading into the cellar, which he had evidently lived in a drop. The coroner of Winnebago county is investigating the case.

The steamer Coptic, which arrived at San Francisco from the Orient, brought $2,000,000 worth of raw silk and over $200,000 in gold.

in close proximity of the exchange of cigarettes and other luxuries. During the bombardment Wednesday night the Russians threw sixty large machine shells into the Japanese camp opposite Mankon Hill.

The Japanese, who during the previous cannonading seemed to have successfully used a searchlight directed against the Russian positions for the purpose of covering their operations at night in the extension of their field works in the region of the railway, did not reply when the Russians attacked them further to the east.

Save Their Ammunition.

The Japanese are notably economical in the use of ammunition, as though anticipating an early battle, when great quantities will become necessary.

It is known that the Japanese have placed guns of large caliber in the vicinity of the Shaho railway station, bringing Schelling, the next station to the north within the range of their fire.

The great precautions taken by the Russians, their continued vigilance, and the disposition of their forces would seem to guarantee their army against any repetition of disasters of enormous magnitude.

The Russian army is celebrating the distribution of presents of food, clothing and confectionery sent by the empress to the officers and men.

Incidents of Camp Life.

Regimental bands are playing from camp to camp along the line, and the army, which is now in better spirits, appears to be much more formidable and homogeneous. The soldiers are active in collecting and storing all the crops left by the Chinese in the fields, which they are conserving for use both as food and fuel.

The demolition of the Chinese houses appears to continue only along the firing line where their destruction is rendered necessary for strategic purposes.

Owing to the mildness of the weather and the prevalence of sunshine the soldiers are bathing in the open.

The Russians are holding manikins for the purpose of drawing the Japanese fire, and they also make a practice of bantering the Japanese in other ways.

Expect Port Arthur's Fall.

Reports of the grave condition of the beleaguered Port Arthur have reached Mukden, and, as a consequence, the Russians will not be surprised to learn of the capitulation of the fortress.

The course taken by the government of Great Britain in the North sea incident is now generally known here, and appears to be regarded as highly magnanimous.

In the extreme east the Japanese appear not to have advanced north of Salmach, and to have concentrated their forces in their center.

COVERS CRIME BY USING FIRE

An Unknown Assassin at Auburn, California, Takes the Lives of Four Persons.

THREE ARE SHOT AND ONE BEATEN

Deep Cuts on the Head Show How He Died, While Bullet Wounds Indicate the Death of Others.

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 12.—It is now known that Julius Weber, his wife, their 19-year-old daughter Bertha and their son Paul, aged 14 years, were murdered Thursday night by an unknown assassin, who set fire to the home in an effort to cover up his crime. Before the fire had made any great headway the bodies of the murdered woman and her two children were rescued from the burning house. An examination of the bodies showed that Mrs. Weber and the children had been murdered before the fire had been started. The daughter had been killed by a pistol wound, as had been Mrs. Weber. On the boy's head were several deep cuts. He had also been shot.

Body of Father Is Burned. Efforts to reach Julius Weber, the father, were abandoned until Friday, when a search was made in the burning timbers and his body was found in the bathroom of the dwelling. He, too, had been shot down before being left to be consumed by the flames. This makes the death list as follows:

Julius Weber, aged 48.
Mrs. Julius Weber, aged 41.
Bertha Weber, aged 19, their daughter.

Paul Weber, aged 14, their son.

The body of Mr. Weber was so badly burned that it has been impossible to ascertain how often he was shot. It has been ascertained beyond a doubt that the women were killed in one room and their clothing set on fire and that they were then dragged into the apartment where their bodies were discovered.

Peculiarity of Crime. One very peculiar circumstance of the tragedy is that while the bodies of the mother and daughter were burned to some extent, the apartment in which they were discovered on fire which the firemen broke in, which showed that they had been killed in some other portion of the house, partially burned and then dragged into the room where they were found.

Coroner Shepard, Sheriff Kean and District Attorney Robinson are making a thorough investigation of the tragedy. The robbery theory is about exploded, as there seems to have been nothing to tempt robbers.

Son Keeps Theory Secret.

Adolph Weber, the son, aged 20, who is the only member of the family alive, talks but little, but to the coroner and sheriff he says he did not think the motive was either robbery or revenge. When asked if he had a theory he said he had, but would not give it. He did say reluctantly that his father had a violent temper. The boy said he left the house about 6:30 and came downtown, purchased a pair of trousers and did several errands. When he went to the fire he dropped his old trousers, which were in a bundle, in the burning building. He is now at the home of Deputy County Treasurer John Odoms. Young Weber has a good reputation.

Weber a Retired Brewer.

Julius Weber was a retired brewer and was possessed of considerable wealth. The family lived in a handsome home here and Mr. Weber possessed valuable property in Oakland, Cal. He was about 48 years of age. Mr. Weber was 41 years of age.

The autopsy on the body of Mr. Weber disclosed a bullet wound through the heart. The size of the wound was the same as that in the bodies of Mrs. Weber and Miss Weber, who were shot with a 32-caliber weapon. Owing to the fact that Mr. Weber's body was badly burned, no bullet could be found. Two 22-caliber rifles were discovered in the house, but no trace of a 32-caliber pistol.

ATTEMPTS TO KIDNAP LONE WOMEN AT NIGHT

Man Picks Up His Victims at Omaha, but Releases Them When They Scream for Assistance.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 12.—Detectives are searching for a man who has made several unsuccessful attempts to kidnap well-known women of this city.

Miss Helen Pickett, daughter of a prominent citizen, was returning from a neighbor's house at night when a huge man stopped her and, picking her up and tucking her under his arm, ran for a carriage a block away.

"Open your mouth, young lady," said the kidnaper, "and I'll choke you to death. Keep still and not a hair of your head shall be harmed." Despite the threat the young woman screamed.

Her cries attracted several people and brought them to her rescue just as the man was nearing the carriage. On the approach of the rescuers the kidnapper dropped the woman, jumped into the vehicle and was driven away.

A man giving the name of A. C. Smith, who answers the description Miss Pickett gives of the man who attempted to kidnap her, has been arrested on suspicion. Within a week several women have been stopped in the street, picked up and carried off by a strange man, but cried for help and were rescued. The other victims of the would-be kidnaper, however, were all women of prominence, refused to report their experiences to the police from a desire to avoid notoriety.

FEDERATION OF LABOR IS UNDER SUSPENSION

Central Body at Chicago Is Penalized for Refusing to Obey Mandates of National Organization.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 12.—Uncertainty as to the status of the Chicago Federation of Labor was dispelled Friday when a telegram was received from President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor stating that the charter of the local central body was revoked. The telegram was dated at Denver, and was sent on instruction of the executive council of the parent body, which held its first session on the special train carrying the delegates to San Francisco. The telegram, which was addressed to Secretary E. N. Nockels, reads:

"Your central body failed to comply with the executive council directions as decided by the Boston convention and contained in my letter of Sept. 28, 1904. Time limit, Nov. 1, having expired, your charter stands revoked. Executive council further decides your charter will be restored upon compliance of your central body with decision."

OLD FOGY TAKES UP THE POLICE

DISCUSSES THE FUTURE SELECTION OF CITY MARSHAL.

DISCUSSES THE CANDIDATES

The Matter Is of Much Interest to the Tax Payers of the City at Present.

To the Editor:

Perhaps now that election is over, the votes all counted, and we know who is going to be president for the next four years and governor for the next two, city affairs may again interest many people. Just at present the question of reorganization of the police department and selection of a new city marshal is still in abeyance. The council very wisely put the selection of a city marshal over until the last of the present month and in the meantime placed officer John Brown in charge of the force. I do not want to be understood as advocating the selection of any one man for the position and what I may say in this letter and in future letters are merely expressions of my desire to see the matter settled in such a way as the city will reap the benefit of the selection finally made.

The Candidates.

As I understand matters there are five candidates in the field for the position, John Brown, acting city marshal, T. Acheson, a former sheriff, J. J. Comstock, alderman of the second ward and also an ex-sheriff, George Appleby, present sheriff whose term expires in January next, and William Appleby, his brother an ex-sheriff. Taking the subject from an outsiders point of view here are five men all experienced in catching thieves and preserving order. While some of the periods of service of the applicants perhaps date back several years they have it as an asset in the present struggle for pence. Each candidate has backers and each candidate is anxious for the position. The members of the council claim to be impartial and a careful resume of the situation points to the fact that perhaps Brown and William Appleby have the best chances.

An Outsider.

It has been suggested that the council secure the services of an outsider as chief. A man trained in catching thieves and in organizing the department into some sort of system. This meets with favor in some quarters and is strongly disapproved in others. The choice will probably remain at home and one of the five candidates named above be chosen. The advantages of an outsider coming in are held out by the advocates of this plan as follows: Not being a resident of the city he will not be tied down by any cliques or factions. He would impartially deal out justice to all without fear of disapproval of any gang. That he would be an unknown quantity to the small boys and hence would terrorize them into submission to the law. That he would take pride in making the department perfect and would be watchful of the city's interests.

The Answer.

As an answer to these arguments take them up one by one. Not tied to any cliques. A good officer would not be tied to any gang no matter how well he knew the members if he was a true police officer. He would and will deal out justice impartially. There are many times circumstances that alter cases and where a stranger might err and arrest a man and dishonor him an officer thoroughly acquainted with the situation could obtain better results by a judicious treatment of the question. As for being an unknown quantity to the boys. This is a mistaken idea. His first encounter with the wise little "street gamin" would teach the "whole gang" what sort of a man they had to deal with and then they could continue on their way unmolested. Then regarding the pride he would take in the department. This would be more apt to be true in a man chosen from the city who would make a more efficient chief because he would be anxious to show that his selection was for the benefit of the whole community.

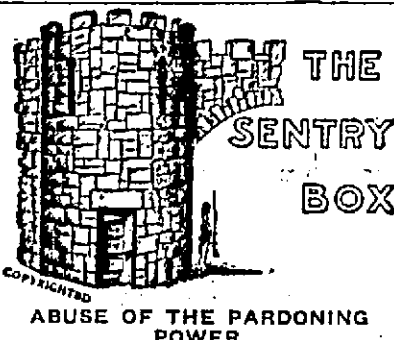

The Department.

I may be called an "Old Fogy" but in some things I think I am more progressive than I am given credit for. I was sitting in a cigar store recently when the question of more police for the city was brought up and one man suggested that two good officers, one for night and one for day was all that was needed. This man based his expert opinion upon the conditions that existed when the late city marshal Hogan first came on the force. Meanwhile Janesville has blossomed from a country village into a city of no mean magnitude. Where two trains a day connected us with the rest of the world, freights and fast expresses run every hour. Factories have come by the score, the population has grown and from country boys to deal with the coming city marshal will have the cleverest of crooks and bravest of thugs who had their training in the cesspools of the great cities. Janesville is a city and we can not get away from the fact.

More Officers.

One thing we need is more officers. Let the council select their new marshal and give him full power to organize his department with sufficient officers to compel obedience to the laws of the land and the ordinances of the city. One policeman for each ward of the city is not too little and one man stationed at the city hall night and day to answer telephone calls and be ready for hurry up calls when no other officer is available. The marshal can divide his force to suit himself, but he should not only have the whole supervision of them but also the disciplining of them. Political pull should not place a man on the force, but ability and capability. Later I shall have something to say about the division of the city into more wards.

Brochural Trouble's are often permanently cured by Pilo's Cure for Consumption.

The tendency of modern civilization is toward moderating the severity of punishment for infractions of the criminal law. This tendency is unquestionably upon the whole beneficial as well as humane. Fewer crimes are committed per capita in civilized countries than were committed when the death penalty was attached to more than a hundred forms of law-breaking.

But a necessary condition of the beneficial effects of more moderate punishment is that the punishment shall be certain. Swift and relentless retribution must follow every detected crime, or the normal effects of punishment in deterring criminals is entirely lost.

The first necessity of certain punishment is prompt trials; the facilities for securing postponements and delays should not be too generously extended. The second is fair and impartial trials—courts organized to do equal and exact justice; judges fearless in discharging their duty, without maudlin sympathy for malefactors.

But there is a third requisite. The granting of pardons should be carefully and even sternly safeguarded. It is the last named particular that the Sentries sees deplorable indications of relaxation in some quarters. The courts are steadily advancing in promptness of trial and disregard of undue leniency to the undoubtedly guilty through safety for their misfortune. But we fear that the pardoning power is getting to be abused more widely each year.

It would not do to abolish the pardoning power altogether. But it might be well to limit it by law, or by the force of public opinion, to cases where new evidence tending to establish the innocence of the convicted person has been discovered or where relief is positively a matter of immediate life or death.

Part of our national and State constitutions, largely an executive function, and some executives have shown great jealousy of legislative encroachments thereon. But complaints of exceptional leniency of certain governors has led several of the states to establish pardoning boards, which act sometimes merely in an advisory capacity, in other cases with practically full power.

And now these pardon boards come in for their share of emphatic criticism, for acts which are practically based on a distortion of their intended prerogatives.

In some instances it has come to pass that the board of pardons has been transformed into a court of appeals. The effect of this is to let criminals find that after conviction they have one more trial coming, and they are not slow to demand it. Hence at its stated meetings the board is deluged with scores of applications for a remission of sentences, constituting in reality a reversal of verdicts, and having no merit behind them—merely the impudence and persistence of the convict, or the clamor of his relatives.

ARE PLAYING AT THE FORT TODAY

Wilbur Has Been Put in Right End on High School Team—Left This Noon.

This afternoon the high school football team is playing at Fort Atkinson with the high school team of that city. One other change has been made in the team; J. Wilbur has been placed at right end and if he is doing as good work in the game as he has done in practice the last few nights he is certainly one of the stars. In carrying the ball he is considered to be the speediest man on the team. The players left this noon on the 12:45 train accompanied by coach Bartlett and several rooters. The lineup is as follows: E. Ryan, left; Carle, left; Mahoney, center; Goosen, right; Lee, right; Wilbur, right; Semetz, right; Foley, right; Caldwell, right; Gibrath, right; Wright, right; Connors and Devlin were taken along as subs.

SECOND WARD TEAM IS STRENGTHENED

For Game Tomorrow Afternoon with Rockford Eleven in the Forest City.

Tomorrow afternoon the Second Ward football team will play in Rockford with the same team which they defeated on Bunker hill by five points about two weeks ago. The home team is not much stronger and a great deal lighter than the Rockford team and will have the disadvantage of being on strange grounds but they expect to put up a strong game and have high hopes of again being victorious. They will line up as follows: E. Wilbur, left; T. H. Acheson, center; Brown, right; Riley, right; Whittier, right; Joyce, right; Murphy, right; Matthews, right; Hutchinson and G. Daly. This line has been changed from the way in which the team played before and material strength has been gained by the move. They should hold Rockford down to a tie if not win the game.

SPOONER MAY BE ATTORNEY GENERAL

It Is Said That the President Will Offer Him This Position Very Shortly.

Dispatches from Washington this morning announce that there is a probability that United States Senator John C. Spooner will be offered the attorney general's portfolio in the new cabinet by President Roosevelt. The Washington Times is a sponsor for the information and states that it has information that the Wisconsin senator will succeed Secretary Moody. It adds the following praise: "He will be the greatest attorney general that the United States has ever had."

This statement is accredited to a prominent republican. It further says: "Senator Spooner has always been one of the president's closest advisers on legal matters. In trust legislation the Wisconsin senator's opinion has been given much weight, and he is one of the few senators who are called in conference at the White House when stubborn questions arise."

The Times also says that Senator Spooner has always had presidential aspirations. In this connection it says: "His great ability as a lawyer is universally recognized and it is not unlikely that he thinks a brilliant career as attorney general would do more to put him in line for the presidency than further service in the senate."

In the Wisconsin colony it is recalled that Senator Spooner twice declined to enter the cabinet of President McKinley. On one occasion he was tendered the attorney generalship, and later refused the interior portfolio.

PROGRAM FOLLOWED BUSINESS SESSION

Women's Union Label League Had First Musical and Literary Program Last Evening.

After the regular business meeting of the Women's Union Label league in the Assembly hall last evening a musical and literary program was followed by members and friends. This is the first time such a session has been held and the success of last night's program has insured the continuance of the plan and if possible a similar program will be given after each business meeting. Last evening's program opened with a musical selection by Prof. Thiele and George Baumann. Miss Ruby Griffin rendered a declamation in Irish dialect in a very creditable manner. Mrs. Gibbs, president of the organization, spoke of the object and aim of the league and Charles Buck gave a history of unionism from the first merchants and laborers' guilds in the middle ages in England through the trades unions of that country down to the present time, showing the changes and development of the institution. A vocal solo was given by Anthony Hannula and received with such hearty and continued applause that he was forced to respond with an encore. The program closed with music by Prof. Thiele and George Baumann. The committee in charge of last evening's program was composed of the Mesdames Horn, Falter, and Buck.

Engineer M. A. Crowley has returned to work after several days' lay-off.

Engineers Gosselin and Schödenberg are on a rabbit hunting expedition this afternoon.

When the late William F. White was traffic manager of the Santa Fe railroad he received a letter from a Kansas politician returning an annual pass of the year before. For some reason another pass had not been sent to the politician, who sent the following verse with the expired pass.

"Alas, it is said no more I'll dead-head."

My way over the glistening rail, Unless Mr. White will consider it right.

To send me a pass by the mail."

This communication pleased White. He took the expired pass and made an endorsement across the face in red ink, and then added his signature, a complicated series of scratches familiar to every Santa Fe conductor. This was the inscription: "The conductors will pass this bundle of gas."

From March 'till the middle of Lent, Like any deadhead without a red, Let him ride to his heart's content. The pass was used by the politician, and was accepted unquestionably by conductors.

Roadmaster C. McDonald, whose territory was from Madison to Milwaukee and from Madison to Beloit, has resigned. J. N. Blair comes from Iowa to succeed him.

The 2,000 Ruelie Rail Anchors which were placed on the rails of the Madison division have proven so satisfactory that an order for 6,000 more will be given.

It is reported that there is a great demand for men on the Great Northern by one who has recently returned to the North-Western from that road.

The Illinois Central now has at Memphis, the largest railway shops in the south. Additions to the original plant there have been made at a cost of over $250,000. The extension gives employment to hundreds of new men, mostly skilled mechanics. The Louisville & Nashville's shops at Louisville have been for many years the largest south of the Ohio river, but now the honor of having the biggest plant belongs to Memphis.

Coming Attractions.

Success has become so closely associated with the firm name of Klaw & Erlanger that it seems almost a foregone conclusion that any production they may make is predestined to at once achieve a very prominent place in public attention. One of their greatest hits of the present and past season is the musical comedy farce, "The Billionaire," in which they present Thomas Q. Scarborough, the noted comedian, in the title role of "John Doe." This attraction will be seen in this city at the Myers Grand opera house after a four

HOLD-UP STORY PROVES A FAKE

MYSTERIOUS WALTER FLEMMING
TELLS THE POLICE

HOW THE MONEY WAS LOST

Loaned the Eighty Dollars to Porter at Myers Hotel to Put Up on Election; Porter Vamoosed.

As suspected from the beginning, the story of the hold-up of Walter Fleming by two men with drawn revolvers on Milwaukee avenue, near the fair grounds, late Tuesday night, proves to be an unqualified and thoroughgoing fake. Acting Chief Brown has been looking for this mysterious Fleming, who was too reticent to confide his troubles to the police, for two days past and this morning when the stranger made another visit to the city he was trailed along Milwaukee avenue and captured near Dr. Mills' residence. When confronted by the story of the alleged highwaymen and the robbery of $80 Fleming at once acknowledged to Officer Brown and a representative of the Gazette that the story was a pure myth. He said that he lost the money, alright, through misplaced confidence in a supposed friend, and that being broke, pay for his board being due, and his landlady being aware that he had plenty of cash on election day, he trumped up the story of the hold-up by armed men to save her off until he could earn more money. Fleming has been working in Patrick Flood's beet fields and hauling at the residence of Mrs. Hoag near the fair grounds, since coming here from Tracy, Minnesota, with one Tom McIntyre, who secured a position as porter at the Myers hotel, and Charles Blair who entered the employ of the Grand. The trio arrived here about Oct. 25. Fleming says that he had known Blair a long time but met McIntyre for the first time in Tracy, working with him from Sept. 30 to Oct. 16. On election day Fleming came in from the outskirts of the city with $80 on his person. He visited McIntyre at the Myers House and the latter at once borrowed $10. When he saw the roll of bills from which the ten was peeled a happy idea struck him. He told Fleming to let him have it all and that he would take it up to the bartender and get it put on election on a sure proposition. This was after the two had walked several saloons and were feeling quite mellow. Fleming waited a while in the washroom for his chum to return from his decision to the bartender, but he never came, nor has he been seen since about these parts. He hunted for him for some time before the truth broke in upon him. Then he turned his weary way toward home, arriving there about half-past ten o'clock. As there had been no witness to the transaction, Fleming says that he feared that the police would not believe his story, so decided not to tell it. Had he used better judgment the trick of McIntyre's doubtless would have been captured. The highwaymen of Janesville were not infested with outlaws and highwaymen and Acting Chief Brown has done the people a service by running this story to the ground.

BIG GAMES BEING CONTESTED TODAY

Michigan-Chicago, Minnesota-Wisconsin, Northwestern-Illinois, and Yale-Princeton.

Ann Arbor, Evanston, Minneapolis and Indianapolis are all centers of interest today in the west for football enthusiasts and devotees of the game will watch closely the results of the games being played at Princeton, New York and Philadelphia. In the Michigan and Chicago game at Ann Arbor, Michigan should win, though Coach Stagg has been making all preparations for this game, which is the biggest of the west today. At Minneapolis Wisconsin and Minnesota are contesting and the latter should win and it is expected by nearly all that she will win. Northwestern will very likely be victorious over Illinois at Evanston and Purdue over Indiana at Indianapolis. Iowa should defeat Grinnell at Iowa City and Nebraska should be victor in the game with Haskell Indians at Kansas City. In the eastern games today, Princeton is expected to win from Yale at Princeton, Pennsylvania should be the victorious team in the game with the Carlisle Indians at Philadelphia. Harvard will defeat Holy Cross at Cambridge, and Cornell should defeat Columbia in the game at New York City. Dartmouth should win from Amherst at Hanover. West Point should win from New York at West Point and the navy team should defeat Virginia at Annapolis. Brown and Colby are playing at Providence and the former should win.

On the night of the twenty-second, on the night of the full moon, there will be conveyances at the foot of Magnolia avenue to meet all braves who journey towards the wigwam and these same braves will afterwards be conveyed back to the centre of the great village of Janesville, after the council has adjourned. This and the vast entertainment including the feasts of wit, reason and inner man is all included in the one annolon which each brave is requested to hand Chief Baker at once.

HALL IS CHOSEN BY LA FOLLETTE

Was His John the Baptist, Preaching in the Wilderness Years Ago.

There is reason to believe that A. R. Hall of Knapp, Dunn county, is the first choice of Governor La Follette for the seat of J. V. Quarles in the United States senate. The half-breeds will shortly hold a conference at which this senatorial matter will be discussed. A. R. Hall was the John the Baptist of Governor La Follette, championing the boss' reforms in the assembly years before La Follette became governor. Hall was "the voice crying in the wilderness," the forerunner of La Follette in Wisconsin politics, and it is learned from reliable sources that Governor La Follette believes Mr. Hall would perform this same service with respect to the national political aspirations of the governor.

AGED VETERAN TAKES HIS LIFE

F. E. OSBORNE OF MILTON, COM-
MITS SUICIDE TODAY.

HANGS HIMSELF TO A RAFTER

His Dead Body Was Found by His Brother This Afternoon—
Married Recently.

F. E. Osborne, an aged veteran of the Civil war, committed suicide this afternoon by hanging himself to a rafter in his barn at Milton. He found by his brother, Henry Osborne, but too late to save his life. Mr. Osborne was seventy-five years of age and an old resident of Rock county. No cause can be assigned for his act.

Married Recently
A little over a month ago Mr. Osborne was married to Mrs. Ben Carey of this city, and despite his years was considered to be very happy in the family. He was seen about the streets this morning and just before dinner helped his brother harness his team. Yesterday he did his share cutting wood and was very cheerful and happy. He was well-to-do and apparently in the best of health.

A War Veteran
Mr. Osborne enlisted in the Civil war in Co. B of the 22d regiment, Capt. Will's company recruited to Rock county, and served throughout the term of enlistment of his regiment. He was well thought of by his friends in Milton and his death will come as a shock to his many friends throughout the county.

TRANSPORTATION FOR THE WORKERS

Contractors Benson and Hanrahan
Settle Dispute with Men Who Struck Yesterday Afternoon.

Everything of difference between Contractors Benson and Hanrahan and the men who struck yesterday afternoon was settled this morning out of the courts and the men are now back in Chicago. When the trouble started yesterday afternoon the three boarding houses at which the men had been put up by the bosses, were notified that the contractors would no longer be responsible for the board money, and at one place the men were turned out. They were five in number and at their own request slept at the city lock-up over night and ate breakfast there this morning. Five others beat their way to Chicago last evening and those left until this morning say two older men who had never "been on the road" started to walk. This morning a meeting between the men and the contractors was held at the lock-up and it was agreed by the latter to furnish transportation for the men to Chicago and pay them for what time they had put in at $2.00 a day. This agreement was carried out and the men returned to their home city this morning on the 10:35 over the St. Paul road.

The above is one aversion of the status of affairs. Justice Charles Reeder has another. He says that nineteen of the men who worked two and a half days claimed that they had $1.35 coming to them when board was taken out and that a full settlement for this money was not made to his knowledge. The men who visited him in his office yesterday, twenty-six in number, assured him that as soon as they got back to Chicago and could get the funds together they would expect him to bring twenty-six cases against the contractor. One thing the men objected to, according to Judge Reeder, was the charge of $2.70 against them for their fare when it was alleged that the contractor chartered a car for $50 to bring forty here.

TEACHERS NOT TO HAVE INCREASE

Janesville School Marms View with Regret Action of Mayor Rose in Milwaukee

Janesville teachers who have been much interested in the attempt of the Milwaukee school board to secure an increase in salary for the Cream city schoolmarms will be disappointed to learn that Mayor Rose has vetoed the order and that if the teachers are to receive their increase the measure must be passed over the mayor's head. There was no move some months ago to increase the pay of the Janesville teachers and the effect that the increase had been granted in Milwaukee would have helped the movement here considerably.

ROOT CROPS CAN BE KEPT NICELY

Suggestions to Jansville People Who Have No Cellars.

There are many homes in Jansville which have no cellars and whose occupants do not know just what to do with their winter supply of vegetables. In the old days, of village life almost every resident had a root cellar adapted from those used by the farmers. These cellars could be easily constructed and kept the families' winter supply of vegetables in safety all winter. Lately these root cellars have been abandoned and the grocers have been the ones to reap the benefits of the retail trade during the winter months. Perhaps there is no city of its size in the state where so many small gardens are made each summer as in Jansville. These gardens supply the needs of many families during the warm months of the year and there is also a residue left when the cold weather sets in that could be easily saved if a little care was taken. If the cellar room is inadequate for the purpose, a pit might be dug in the yard, or covered on the surface of the land, in the best possible condition, if the proper plan is adopted for keeping them intact; that is, to keep such as are injured by slight freezing warm enough, and those which will not be so injured, cool enough. Potatoes, for instance, are ruined by the least frost, so when they receive their slight covering for winter the pits should have no ventilation. On the other hand, beans, and especially sweet and common turnips, should be kept quite cold; that of the two latter varieties they may be partially frozen, and yet come out intact, if allowed to thaw naturally. Parsnips and salsify, also are better so frozen, and so are onions; but beets and carrots, if frozen, are injured. In cold, long winters, pits of potatoes will often freeze, though covered with a great depth of soil.

A good rule is to cover with plenty of hay or straw, then with six inches of earth, then another layer of straw, and again six or eight inches of earth. This covered the pits with never freeze, even in the extreme winters; but in very long, cold spells it is well to add a covering of litter over all. The philosophy is this: The frost penetrating to the first covering of straw is held by the dead air layer, and seldom enters the second layer of earth to any great extent. Parsnips and salsify may be safely left in the ground where they grow all winter; but enough should be put in the cellar, or pits, to last till spring. It is a mistaken notion that these roots are not good until frozen. They are undoubtedly better in the spring; but if left thus until then, the season is so short that but little good is had of them.

Late celery is saved and blanched for winter use by digging shallow trenches about two feet wide, and placing the plants upright therein, as closely together as possible, and yet allow to have earth packed firmly about the plants, and nearly to the tops. When so packed the whole should be covered with rails, so that the litter over all, to keep out the frost, will not press heavily on the plants. It is some trouble to keep celery, but the satisfaction of having this delicious vegetable in winter well repays the cost. When wanted for use the end last packed may be broken into, as much as is desired taken out, and the whole again covered secure, remembering that fifteen degrees of frost kills this plant.

CORN OUTPUT CREATES DEMAND

Big Crop in Illinois and Other States in the Belt Causes Big Inquiry From Farmers for Products of Mill and Factory.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 12.—Dun's weekly review of Chicago trade says: "Business suffered only slight interruption considering the importance of the presidential election, and the outcome caused much confidence. Official figures place the corn crop only slightly behind that of the great record of 1902, and this is strongly supplemented in the fact that prices in the leading market are fully one-fourth higher than a year ago."

"Illinois and the other states directly tributary to this commercial center again are seen to have produced over one-half of the entire growth. The effect of this inevitably injures to benefit of industry generally, this being apparent already in new demands for mill and factory output."

"Mercantile dealings this week have been equal to the volume expected. More seasonable weather brought added consumption of necessities, while most of the manufacturing branches exhibit steady gain in the forces employed. Shipments to western points remain heavy. Financial conditions have not been subjected to any disturbing factor. Money is in large inquiry for contemplated enterprises and mercantile settlements maintain satisfactory promptness."

Prices Are High.

"Industrial developments reflect further tendency of an encouraging nature. Prices of raw material now stand at a level which show rapid recovery, especially in iron and steel. High prices prevail in the markets for hides, leather, lumber and coal, due in each instance to lower available supplies. Commitments in pig iron reach a fair average tonnage, and some additions were made to the bookings for future delivery of steel plates, structural iron and wire. Farm implements and hardware factories, car, machinery and electric works added to their advance orders."

"Board of Trade operations gradually worked into heavy volume and prices made recovery, compared with the closings a week ago, due to sharp demand in the cash divisions. Wheat and corn both gained 3/4c per bu. and oats 1c. Flour closed in good demand for domestic account."

"Failures reported in the Chicago district number 22, against 24 last week and 34 a year ago."

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail, also a Home of Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers from kidney trouble. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Mother's Friend

what it is, and what it does.

If at this time every expectant man and wife might know of this greatest of boons, devised for the express purpose of alleviating and dispelling the suffering and consequent danger of childbirth, how quickly would all doubt and worry be dissipated.

Mother's Friend is an invaluable instrument for external massage, through whose potent agency countless mothers have been enabled to experience the joy of parturition for the first time without danger to themselves or their offspring.

Sporting Comment.

Ed Geers May Race Gazete
Next Season--The Football Artists.

Gazete, the speedy colt trotter, may prove to be a surprise when he strikes into high class company. He has a record of 2:10 1/4, taken in a winning straight heat race over the Decatur (Ill.) track, where he trotted the second and third heats in 2:17 1/2 and 2:17 1/4.

He is by Nazote, is three years of age, is a handsome, well turned, rugged appearing youngster and is owned by D. W. Brownman of Decatur. He made but one start this year and has not been strung out. He has been handled very carefully and should train on to a very low record and prove himself a first class race horse as well.

Next season Gazete will be entered in the grand circuit, and it is said that Ed Geers has a covetous eye on him. Whenever Geers look at a horse twice there is "something doing."

The lowering of the amateur pacer record to pole to 2:06 by Mr. Billings and his pair of side wheelers, Prince Direct and Morning Star, was a great achievement. It was thought Morning Star and Angus Pointer, pacers of the same blood in the male line, would be able to do the trick, but Angus Pointer, raced since last February, when his campaign began on the ice in Canada, proved untimely to the pole hitch. After an ineffectual trial Prince Direct was substituted for him, and the result was a 2:06 mile.

The little black son of Direct is a pacer wonder. Coming into notice way out in Oregon three years ago as a race horse of highest type for what he could do, he was purchased by M. E. Sturges, who at that time owned Dan Patch, and campaigned by McHenry. Like a good many horses brought from the far west to the east, Prince Direct did not do well in his initial campaign in this part of the country, and although he ultimately paced to a mark of 2:07, he was not quite as good as had been looked for.

It was at the close of the season of 1902 that, hitched for the first time in double harness, he and Direct had stepped a mile over the Memphis track in 2:05 1/2. This season he has been lame all the time, but in spite of this has shown himself a great pole horse. The record of 2:06 made with Morning Star is the best for a pair of pacers with amateur driver, so that one way and another Mr. Billings now has nearly all the honors in the driving line that can come to one man. The 1:54 mile of Dan Patch shows the great pacer to be faster than ever and that Heney has fitted him to perfection.

The newspaper artists never lose a chance to poke fun at the enthusiastic football warriors. Some of the drawings are wonderfully amusing. The accompanying caricature is one of many that have appeared this season and shows a daring halfback hurdling an entire team in an effort to make a touchdown. The look of anxiety on the hurdler's face, graphically reproduced by the artist, is enough to draw tears from the great sphinx near the banks of the Nile.

TO TOUR THE WORLD.

Ketchum and Crescens to Race in Hawaii, Australia, Etc.

George H. Ketchum of Toledo, owner, trainer and driver of the world's champion trotting stallion, Crescens, 2:02 1/4, will soon start out on a tour of the world with his pet.

The tour will include a series of exhibition races against the track records and watches on the Pacific slope.

They will then cross the Pacific and try for the track and course records in Honolulu and the Hawaiian Islands, following this up by a tour of the civilized world, terminating in the Australian bush, with drives against all comers, and then back to their home in Toledo.

Jack Moffat's New "Pug." Jack Moffat of Chicago thinks he has a coming champion in Joe Koski, who is ready to meet any middleweight. He has directed a challenge especially against Tony Sapoul, Noah Brusso and Hugo Kelly, all of Chicago, and will put up a side bet of $100 to show his faith in the man.

Grasp the Opportunity Now.

Never has there been a greater premium on well trained minds than at the present time. Never has business enterprises been conducted on a broader scale, or required more skillful management. The young man or woman seeking office employment must be able to do the work required in this exacting age or give way to those who can. Business-men have no time to instruct their employees in duties which a proper education would qualify them to discharge. Our teachers have had a number of years of experience in some of the largest offices of America, and are in a position to know the requirements of the business world.

Our facilities are the most modern and we are therefore able to supply just what the commercial world demands. Our courses of study, we believe, are more like real business than any other college in the state. Our teachers are the best, and our class and study rooms are not excelled. Upon completing a course with us, every student will secure a position. We have not been able to supply the demand made for our graduates. We offer no unbusiness-like inducements to catch trade.

OUR MOTTO IS: Thorough Instruction, Honorable Business Dealings, Promises Fulfilled. By living up to this motto our attendance is growing very rapidly and although we enlarged our premises only a short time ago, we are already preparing to add additional accommodation. If you are interested in either a Business or Short Hand education and are desirous of securing the best, you should attend the

NEW GAS LIGHT CO.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Knitted Eider Cloth

We wish to direct your attention to the new Eider Cloth made especially for both robes, sacques, children's cloaks, &c. It is a knitted fabric with an eider-down surface, thick but downy, and will not rough up. This beautiful material we show in plain colors and lovely fancy styles in great variety. See it in the domestic department. Width 27 inch; price 25c.

INTERLINING

A new idea in interlining that is meeting with much favor is an all wool material with a fine fleecy surface, knitted back, and will not bunch up. It is very light but adds much warmth to a garment. Can be seen at lining counter. 72 inch, 60c.

The Cloaks at $4.48 and $5.48 should be seen by every woman looking for something extra good at a small price. They are actually worth $10 to $20. We have sold them freely but want to sell them faster as we need the room. They would not last a week if people knew their real worth. While we offer these cloaks at only $4.48 and $5.48 it does not mean that they are "off styles." One can see hundreds of cloaks worn on the street that do not compare to these for style.

Underwear at 19c and 39c

Look at the great bargains in Underwear on large table in south store. Vests, Pants, Union Suits, odd lots, broken sizes that have been sold at 50c to $1.50, many being all wool.

It's an opportunity. We have enough to hold out for two weeks rapid selling.

BUGGIES

A maker of high grade buggies was overstocked and rather than carry them over till next season, cut the price below cost of making. We were on the ground with cash and secured several vehicles of the finest pattern and finish, which will be sold as long as they last for. $50. Bring in your mail order catalogues—we more than meet their prices.

Heavy Farm Wagons

We handle two of the best make,—high grade, well built wagons that will stand rough usage. Our line of Implements and Vehicles is the largest in this section. By buying now you can save money.
